ENTREPS AWARD: GOOD HEALTH AND WELLBEING, CHAPTER 3

With this award we want to honor policies, projects, initiatives, institutions, start-ups and in very exceptional occasions, individuals, whose performance towards achieving the goals of this chapter should receive recognition.

A prime example of a project we find commendable regarding the third UN Sustainable Development Goal -Good Health and Wellbeing- is the partnership between Amref Health Africa and Cosmic Relief to increase the quality of essential maternal, newborn and child health in Central Uganda, refurbishing health facilities, building the skills and confidence of nurses and midwives and delivering a comprehensive program of community outreach aiming to tackle misconceptions surrounding health facilities¹. If you know any project, initiative or policy deserving the Award on this particular category, reach them out to apply now.

Therefore, Entreps appreciates the active work of those who have a significant impact in the implementation of these targets, which include the Sustainable Development Goals, established in 2015 by the United Nations, as well as more objectives which contribute to a more sustainable world. This is why the role of the Global Jurors specialists able to highlight the projects that they believe deserve to be recognized, is crucial.

Being a Global Juror just takes an hour per year from you, giving you private access to an online platform to nominate and vote, plus preferential access to the Congress and Awards Gala.

GOOD HEALTH AND WELLBEING AS AN INTERNATIONAL ISSUE

Health is one of the main concerns for international actors. Health problems can pose important risks in terms of mortality, and highly deteriorate people's quality of life. Furthermore, according to the US a health emergency can push people into bankruptcy or poverty in rich and poor countries alike, which links the importance of maintaining good levels of health with the achievement of other sustainable development goals. The international community has attributed a great deal of importance to fighting towards achieving good health at a global level so that it becomes the norm and not an exception.

Health has been considered an issue that transcends borders for centuries. The United Nations considers that great efforts are needed to address persistent and emerging health issues and that progress can be made by focusing on providing more efficient funding of health systems, improved sanitation and hygiene, increased access to physicians and more tips on ways to reduce ambient pollution. In order to counteract this, the United Nations has set nine targets to achieve in order to accomplish this sustainable development goal, which are to be achieved with the cooperation of a variety of global actors².
